

MY VOTE MY POWER

Voting:

The concept of my vote my power should be understood by every person living in a democratic Nation. He or She must this power to select the right candidate for the development and betterment of their Nation. I personally believe that voting plays an important role in a democratic country like India. Everyone should vote as all people have Different opinions.

Election:

We need to understand the concept of 'My Vote My Power'. It is Not Just our Right but even it is our duty as well. By using the right to vote in a democratic country. We will be going to prove our responsibilities as citizens of the country. In order to ensure we citizens take good care of our country we should make us of our right to vote. Many times. Most People take too much time to believe that a single vote would not make much of a difference. But it is not the reality that people should understand very soon. This is why we should not Misuse our right to vote. In India a person can vote if he or she is above 18 years.

When there are elections in a particular assembly. People are allowed to vote because the decision of people matters a lot as it is our country, we need to our it and our decision is of greater Importance. But in our country. India, we are given the privilege to select the leaders of the political parties or the right candidate who will be going to contribute to the development and enhancement of the Nation. It is all done through the process of voting. There are many things happening in the country when people want to raise their voices and want to make changes to the laws but they are not capable because they are not given the Right. This is how the concept of voting comes into effect.

Right to Vote:

My vote my Right is one of the most important pillars of democracy. This is the main reason why a person should use his or her right to vote if they are 18 years or above and want to contribute to the country. There is a Not a specific reason. We should consider while considering my vote my right.
