

A SONG TO MY FRIEND:

Two souls started their journey thousand miles apart from each other!

Tied together by a tether!

Travelled across sorrow and loss and not bother!

Destined to meet their soulmate in the name of friendship

My pen is blessed to write to this song for her

My eyes stop searching for her when I reach the tip of the world

My heart stop missing her when there is no sorrow in the world

My mind stop thinking of her when God stops thinking about me

My eyes stops crying for her when the last drop of my blood dries out

My love for her ends when I count the stars in the universe!

The love for my friend equals to all drops of blood that flow in the men ever born!

I am no Shakespeare to write an eternal poem, but my friend lives until the last poem ever is written!
