

THE EARTH SPEAKS

I am the mother earth; of all the planets, I am special.
I am filled with full of life with living elements.
I work tirelessly for each single minute to give you
Day and night and to give you the basic needs.
My creation is out of your imagination and my beauty
Is out of your mind and my sacrifice is selfless.
My love is endless in giving you whatever you want
And my expectation is nothing out of you from generations.
But you use my land with greedy lust and you destroy
The nature I give, and plot your own nature's death.
And I see my children dying off various diseases
And shedding their blood in the battlefield for the power.
I suffer, because of the violent acts you do to me.
I cry, due to no peace and no unity in the world.
I mourn, for the death of the Innocent people.
I am happy if you speak up, rise up and stand by me.

G.NAGARJUNA

22BP07